

Collinsville eyes annexation of Lakeside Airport

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

The future of Lakeside Airport on Route 111 south of State Aid 35 is being debated locally and in Springfield.

Bill Nichols, owner of the airport, says if he is unable to sell the airport, he plans to "plow the thing up and close it" due to a 460 percent increase in property taxes in the past year.

THE STATE says it wants to see the airport kept open and grow. "It is an unusually good location to serve not only the local area, but the entire St. Louis metropolitan area. The highway access to it is outstanding. There is not a city in the nation that has enough capacity for commercial aviation," Richard Ware, chief of the Bureau of Aviation for the Illinois Department of Aeronautics, told the Press-Record.

Grants totaling 95 percent of the cost of purchasing the property and certain improvements are available to governmental agencies considering taking over the airport, Ware noted.

Collinsville became the first governmental entity to announce that it is considering annexing along State Aid Route 35 to the airport and purchasing it as a city-owned facility. Collinsville Mayor Gene Brombolich made that announcement at a meeting of the Madison County Council of Mayors last week.

THE COLLINSVILLE announcement was viewed with concern by several officials in the Quad-City area who say they are going to study the issue, but Mayor Paul Schuler says he suspects Brombolich is "10 years behind the times. We looked at it in depth nearly 10 years ago and were told that within the foreseeable future it would not be anything but a VFR (visual flight rules) airport," Schuler said.

Nichols says a governmental buyout may be the only way the airport will survive. "I was going to turn my certificate (to operate an airport) in, but the Department of Aeronautics was very concerned and asked me not to close it," he said.

He blamed Nameoki Township

Tax Assessor Carl Macios for raising the airport's tax assessment 460 percent. "I'm not going to pay such taxes as a punishment for bucking the machine," Nichols said.

HE NOTED that the township also raised the assessment on his property planned for catfish ponds by 200 percent in the past year. Those

United Way passes goal

For the first time since 1982, the fall campaign of the Tri-Cities Area United Way surpassed its $650,000 goal with pledges received late Wednesday afternoon. It was announced by Eric Robertson, the 1984 general chairman.

"Between 3 and 5 o'clock yesterday we received enough pledges to put us over the top," Robertson said today. "The total now stands at $630,576, with additional pledges expected in today's mail."

"I AM proud of the community for what it has accomplished and I'm equally proud to be a part of this community."

"The formal part of the 1984 campaign will end tomorrow, but there is still uncollected money that we hope to collect between now and Christmas," Robertson said. "We don't want people to think that just because the campaign is over, we won't accept any more pledges."

The final report luncheon of the 1984 campaign is scheduled for noon Friday at the Community Club on the Granite City Army Installation.

Christmas ideas festival Saturday

With Thanksgiving Day just one week away, many Quad-Cityans are starting to think of Christmas and what present to get for that someone special.

That is the purpose of the free Christmas Ideas Festival sponsored annually by the Granite City Park District. This year's festival will be this Saturday, from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the Harold Brown Recreation Center, Franklin and Amos avenues at Ponton Road.

THE SHOW is designed to display and sell crafts, gifts, decorations and other Christmas-related items.

All items displayed will be hand-crafted originals.

Many new exhibitors have been added this year, including craftsmen and artists from Illinois and Missouri. There is a total of 57 exhibitors signed up for the event.

There is no charge for admission.

"THOSE ATTENDING will have a chance to see new and different ideas for their church, business and club projects. This also is an excellent time to do some Christmas shopping," said David Nolan, director of parks and recreation.

Holiday worship set

The Thanksgiving season will be observed during a community Thanksgiving celebration at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Granite City High School auditorium.

The program is sponsored by the Quad-Cities Ministerial Alliance as a "useful way of recalling the gifts of God that have made America great," according to the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor of Nameoki Presbyterian Church.

"THIS YEAR'S Community Thanksgiving Celebration will feature volunteers from the Granite City High School Band and as well as the Granite City High School Chorus. Speakers will be from a wide spectrum of backgrounds," Rev. Pierson, spokesman for the Ministerial Alliance, said.

He reminds the community that more than 360 years ago, "a brave band of pilgrims sailing on the Mayflower landed in New England. They faced their first great enemy in the form of a harsh winter. All through that dread winter, disease and sickness tested their courage. When spring arrived, only seven were able to walk."

"Yet, in the midst of adversity, as a cold spring arrived, they recalled God's promise to Abraham, and to them, 'I will make of thee a great nation.' A friendly Indian, Squanto, taught them how to plant corn and use fish as fertilizer that enabled them to survive, even when their own imported seeds failed to germinate," Rev. Pierson said.

"WHEN THE summer had passed and fall came, it appeared that they

Rebuilding process slow for fire victims

A mother and her child are improving this week after suffering serious burns while fleeing their burning home, which was destroyed by fire a week ago.

The modular home at 855 South Thorngate Drive, in Mitchell, was occupied by Thomas Miks, 34, his wife, Mary, 27, and their 16-month-old daughter, Kristen. Both Mrs. Miks and Kristen are recovering in the St. John's Mercy Hospital burn unit.

MRS. MIKS, who suffered second and third-degree burns on approximately 15 percent of her body, is scheduled for skin grafts on Monday, Nov. 19. Her face, left arm and back were burned during the blaze which quickly engulfed the one-story structure.

Kristen suffered severe smoke inhalation which has affected her lungs, but her father said Wednesday that a tube supplying oxygen to her lungs is expected to be removed today. She suffered second-degree burns to portions of her face and hands, with some third-degree burns to her right hand. Skin grafts have yet to be scheduled for the child.

A smoke detector outside the child's bedroom awakened the family. Miks led his wife, who was carrying their daughter, through the dense smoke. He exited the home through the front door, then realized that they were not behind him.

"MY WIFE had lost her way before she got to the front door, so I went back to the door and began to yell so she would know which way to go," Miks said. "Just before she came out the door, a ceiling panel fell on her back and she couldn't shake it off. That's what caused the burns to her back."

Miks, a construction worker, said that he and his wife have not decided whether to rebuild at the same location or move elsewhere.

"I'm really thankful to the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department for their efforts to save our home," Miks said. "They did everything they could to help and they all were very sympathetic."

THE BLAZE started outside the rear of the home, in a doghouse. Their pet had recently undergone surgery and they had placed a heat lamp in the doghouse to keep the pet warm. The heat lamp apparently caused the fire that quickly spread to the modular home.

A small camper-trailer parked next to the home also was destroyed. Miks used the trailer as a work area. He owns and races a speedboat as a hobby. The boat was nearby, but did not suffer severe damage by the fire.

All of the family's other belongings were destroyed in the blaze, but Miks said he was just thankful that he and his family were able to escape and are still alive.

Hogan leads GC School Board

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

The Granite City Board of Education reorganized for the next 12 months Tuesday night, naming Treasurer Kelly Hogan as president and President David Partney as the new treasurer.

The scope of the presidency was argued heatedly, with Thomas Miorsky urging that Hogan avoid what Miosky called Partney's excesses.

DEWEY MELTON received three votes for president, but majority control remained in the hands of Partney, Hogan, Alan Crider and Mrs. Ruth Lahr, as it has for the past year.

Harmony that had been developed and maintained during the successful drive to approve a $6,000,000 working cash fund bond issue Nov. 6 appeared to unravel with the canvassing of the vote.

A major point of difference was Partney's surprise effort to have the new president choose all committees, rather than the past practice of the seven members reaching a consensus.

MIOFSKY ALLEGED that Partney during the past year improperly made many public statements that people assumed were the full board's views.

A former board president, Miosky added that Partney spent excessive time in the administrative offices, sometimes issuing orders as if he were an administrator rather than a policy-setter.

Partney disagreed that he had exceeded his role during the chaotic year. Mrs. Lahr praised his record in the presidency.

CRIDER WAS ELECTED as board secretary 7-0, succeeding Miosky. Melton abstained as the board chose Partney as the new school treasurer, 6-0.

Three negative votes were cast—by Melton, Miosky and Monroe Worthen—when the board again created a personnel committee Tuesday night.

It was that committee which excluded the superintendent, other board members and the public from

Pontoon to contract for pothole repairs

By DONNA KIMBRO of the Press-Record

A project to fill potholes on streets in five separate areas of Pontoon Beach prior to the winter season was given approval by the Pontoon Beach Village Board Tuesday night.

An extensive list of streets needing work was compiled by John Hale, village engineer. He recommended to the board that particular areas be repaired on a permanent basis and not as a temporary repair.

THE BOARD rejected hiring a contractor for the work and approved contracting with the Nameoki Township Highway Department to complete work on Kaseberg Lane, a street in Jones Park, South Drive, East Lake Drive and Lake Street.

Hale estimated the work, under the supervision of a general contractor, would cost about $5,000 and a representative of the township said it could be completed for much less.

"Money was budgeted for road work and by using Motor Fuel Tax funds, I suggest you instruct Nameoki Township highway commissioner to begin work on the streets immediately," Hale said.

"THERE ARE a lot more streets that need repairs, but this late in the season we cannot get to all areas, therefore, I think we should have a meeting with Nameoki Township (highway) people and outline a program to begin immediately in 1985 for other work on the streets," Hale added.

A meeting was scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 17, to set up a 1985 maintenance program with members of the board and Nameoki township representatives.

The village trustees also approved a standing contract, renewed each year, with Nameoki Township for snow removal in Pontoon Beach at a cost of $3,000, with payments to be made in three installments by Jan. 12.

W. LEE ADAMS, Nameoki Township Highway Commissioner, informed the board that the township has 12 employees, vehicles and equipment to remove snow from streets quickly.

A discussion on drainage at various sites in Pontoon Beach was introduced by Trustee Louis Whitsell and joined by residents attending the meeting.

The primary problem they addressed is on Lake Drive at the railroad tracks between Pontoon Road and Highway 162.

HALE TOLD the board all paperwork on a project to resolve the water sitting on Lake Drive is completed, with the exception of the railroad's approval. Railroad officials still are reviewing the recommendations.

He suggested the village initiate a temporary work schedule to install a culvert and possibly a gate to try and drain the streets on both sides of the railroad tracks, until a more comprehensive project can begin. Presently the Metro-East Sanitary District has men working in the area trying to clean out the culverts so backed-up water can drain, it was announced at the meeting.

WHITSSELL explained that in the Stalling Park area, the culvert located under Route 162 is not functioning and only a trickle of water is passing through to Elm Slough.

Trustees agreed to renew a contract with Gordon Gass to continue farming land owned by the village at a cost of $500, with the agreement that Gass would vacate the property at any given time the board deemed necessary. In the event this would happen before Gass could harvest his crops, the board would be obligated to pay for the crops.

Mary Warren, village clerk, read a letter from the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, announcing that a Business After Hours will be hosted by AAA Maintenance Janitorial Service, Inc., 4136 Pontoon Road, Monday, Nov. 19, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. and board members are invited to attend with other businessmen in the area.

IN RESPONSE to the ongoing problem of someone dumping of debris in the lagoon behind Quiet Valley subdivision, Mrs. Warren reported she contacted the EPA inspector from Madison County who took pictures and spoke with County Environmental Control Director Paul Hawkins concerning the problem.

Hawkins informed Mrs. Warren that the particular area is in the corporate limits of Pontoon Beach, therefore there was nothing he could do to help the situation. She now is contacting the village health inspector and all reports will be forwarded to the State Environmental Protection Agency office.

Both the owner of the site and Pontoon Beach officials are intent on stopping the unofficial dumping in the lagoon, Mrs. Warren said.

IN OTHER business, the trustees instructed Mrs. Warren to advertise for bids to repair the roof of the village hall. Specifications will be prepared and be available in her office.

Nameoki Town Board takes quorum

Lack of a quorum prevented the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees from taking any official action Monday night. It had been speculated that the board would name a new trustee Tuesday night if there had been a quorum.

The only trustees attending were Helen Hawkins and Joseph Garcia. Supervisor Harry Briggs was at the Township Officials of Illinois convention in Springfield and the other two trustees were unable to attend Tuesday night's meeting.

The trustees present noted that a special meeting had been called for 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 19, at which time a new trustee is likely to be named.

After the board failed to muster a quorum, Mrs. Hawkins expressed displeasure that Briggs felt the convention was more important than the regular township meeting. She also said reporters to mention that election petitions for candidates for township offices now are available at the town hall, 4250 Highway 162.

Drug case leads to jail and probation

Anita Hall of 2905 rear Iowa St. has been sentenced to six months in the Madison County Jail and 30 months of probation, plus a $125 fine and $70 court costs.

She was charged with two counts of delivering a controlled drug substance on Dec. 11 and 18, 1980, court records show.

Guiltily pleas were submitted on Aug. 23, 1984, and the sentencing this fall, Sept. 26, 1984, was by Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick.

Gaffner 'not embarrassed at all' about election outcome

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

One drawback of being a United States representative is that each term is only two years long, so it requires constant campaigning.

Incumbent Rep. Mel Price, having just earned another term last week, has already told one newspaper that he intends to seek re-election two years from now.

In 1986, Price may once again face Robert Gaffner of Greenview, director of community relations for the St. Louis Community College District, who says the vote totals show that he is getting stronger with each election as his name recognition grows.

Gaffner said last week, "I am extremely pleased with the results of the election," and proudly cited statistics showing that he received 40 percent of the vote in the district. "Against Mel Price, I think that is a fine showing. I am not embarrassed at all about that," Gaffner said.

ELECTION RESULTS Show that

Gaffner beat Price in Bond County (4,106 votes to 2,847 for Price) and nearly tied in Clinton County (3,598 for Gaffner to 3,794 for Price). Gaffner also garnered 43.1 percent of the vote in Montgomery County (2,517 votes to Price's 3,329) and 40 percent of the votes in Madison County (41,618 to 62,408).

St. Clair County, an area long strong for its homegrown product, Price, remained loyal, giving 63 percent of the vote to the incumbent (54,600 for Price to 32,139 for Gaffner).

ner). "That includes East St. Louis," Gaffner said, noting that he believes for a Republican to get 37 percent of the vote in St. Clair County is "quite an achievement."

The total vote in the five-county district showed Price with 126,978 votes to 83,978 for Gaffner.

PAUL SIMON'S strong showing may have had an effect on Gaffner's total. Gaffner says an analysis of the results indicates that many voters started in the Republican column for Ronald Reagan and remained there until reaching Simon's name.

"Then it appears they switched to Simon and there was a tendency to stop in the Democratic column, from all indications," Gaffner said, adding optimistically. "If Paul (Simon) hadn't run, I think I might have pulled it out."

Also, Gaffner's campaign was hampered by his job. Among his duties is promoting bond issues for the community college district and this was one of the years where he had to spend a great deal of time stumping for that bond issue, which was successful. He told the Press-Record earlier in the campaign that he would not be able to devote as much time to campaigning as he would like.

GAFFNER repeated what Republican U.S. Senator Charles Percy concluded after Percy's defeat last Tuesday, that there was no "coattail" effect from Reagan's landslide victory.

In two years, will there be another Price-Gaffner matchup? Price already has indicated he is willing and Gaffner is considering it. "It would be premature to make up my mind now, but this election was encouraging. I am probably going to remain pretty active, but I'm short of saying I will run again," Gaffner concluded.

DISCUSSING THE FUTURE, Robert Gaffner chats in the Press-Record office recently. He is proud of his slowing in the last election and says he may challenge incumbent U.S. Representative Melvin Price again in two years.

The latest publication of the Old Six Mile Historical Society, "Old Six Mile Clippings and Chatting," is being distributed to a number of local schools and libraries through the generosity of local civic leaders and members of the society.

The book is a collection of historical talks given to the Society at its meetings, historical documents and other data pertaining to Old Six Mile Township which included what is now Venice, Madison, Granite City and part of Nantook Township.

A formal presentation of copies of the book has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ranft, members of the society, to the Granite City Public Library and the Branch Library. Other presentations include seven by Henry D. Karandjeff. He has donated copies of the books to the libraries at Granite City, Madison and Venice high schools, the Granite City Center Library, the Granite City Park District, the Village of Pontoon Beach and the Southern Illinois University Library.

Other presentations include one to the Frohardt School Library by Don Kopp, principal of the school, and another to the Parkway School Library by its principal, Mrs. Agnes Fryntko. Mrs. Marguerite Barker, also a member of the society, has donated copies of the book to the Prather and Niedringhaus school libraries and to the Granite City Board of Education office for loan to other schools.

Collinsville creeping in?

Collinsville seems to be turning up the heat on Quad-City area officials by threatening to annex along State Aid 35 from Route 157 to Route 111 and purchasing Lakeside Airport. Collinsville's municipal airport. The annexation proposal could include the Arlington Heights Subdivision.

Collinsville Mayor Gene Brombolch's announcement last week that he is considering such a proposal in its long-range planning led to calls by the Press-Record of state aviation officials, who indicate that the same proposal, including 95 percent state and federal financing, now being considered by Collinsville, was offered to Granite City officials, but was apparently rejected. Mayor Paul Schuler says he knows of no such proposal made to the city in recent years, but will look into the matter.

Collinsville is showing a great deal of initiative and energy in studying the feasibility of doubling its size by annexing along State Aid 35 from Route 157 to Route 111. If these areas are to be annexed by someone, we feel most of them belong in Granite City.

If Granite City is going to continue to grow, we cannot sit back and let prime properties be gobbed up by more active communities such as Collinsville. Fairview Heights didn't buckle when development opportunities came its way, it simply concluded that such rapid expansion would create problems, such as traffic jams, and set to work to solve those problems, not to stop the expansion.

Certainly, a plan for Granite City to annex properties along State Aid 35 to the airport and to buy the airport would be a large undertaking, and possibly a costly one. The long-range cost may be far greater, however, to sit back and let Collinsville annex prime properties east of Granite City and collect the sales taxes from D-I-Y Home Improvement Center, 84 Lumber and other businesses, the property taxes from Arlington Heights and the landing fees and storage fees from the airport.

Collinsville's growth to the west, as witnessed by the new Hilton Hotel, Dave Croft Chrysler, Laura Buick's new home, the future convention center and other proposed buildings, is proceeding quickly.

We think Collinsville just issued a challenge to Granite City to grow or to pull back and let Collinsville expand into territory which would more logically be in Granite City. We hope our city will not shrink from the challenge, but will study the long-range possibilities with a commitment toward growth and industrial expansion.

We all pay for retail thefts

"The greed of thieves costs Illinois citizens nearly a billion dollars a year in stolen merchandise, which directly equals higher prices for consumers," says Hugh E. Muncy, president of the Illinois Retail Merchants Association (IRMA).

Some stores call it "shrinkage." What it is is theft and someone has to pay for it. That is the message merchants and others are attempting to get to the public this week. During "Everything Has a Price Week."

Shoppers and employees of stores are asked not to turn their backs when they see thefts or suspicious activities. Security or another store employee should be notified immediately. Failure to do so only results in higher prices for everyone.

A survey of more than 200 food stores by a California consulting firm showed that a store may be the victim of a theft eight times a day with an average theft of $11.64 per incident. In the case of food stores, the thefts are attributed to stealing by employees, the consultants concluded.

With profit margins at only 3 to 5 percent for general product lines and rarely more than 1.5 percent in supermarkets, it takes many sales to make up for one theft. For example, for every dollar stolen in merchandise, a supermarket must sell an additional $125 just to break even, not counting the profit it should have made on the item, according to the IRMA.

Available information indicates shoplifting has more than tripled since 1970. Costs associated with theft, including security costs, are estimated at $1.2 billion a year.

As we enter the busiest shopping season of the year, we will be insulted by senseless tags on clothing, coats chained to the racks, cameras watching our every move as merchants fight the "war" against theft.

"When somebody steals, everybody pays," Muncy says. A family of four may pay more than $400 annually in higher prices as the result of store theft. We appeal to everyone to help curb retail theft by paying for all merchandise and reporting thefts to store personnel. Don't be afraid to get involved. By helping merchants watch out for shoplifting, we are watching out for our own pocketbooks.

Lakeside Airport

"I WAS going to develop it myself, but I knew I would get no cooperation from the county," Nichols said. (Nichols was the person who "blew the whistle" on county zoning violations when he alleged that County Supervisor of Assessments James Barton had accepted a contribution to influence zoning for catfish ponds Nichols wanted to build.)

The future of the airport was in limbo until Mayor Brombolch made last week's announcement that the airport may be part of a plan to double Collinsville's size by expanding west along State Aid 35 from Route 157 to Route 111. That expansion also could include the Arlington Heights Subdivision, as well as the airport. Some landowners along State Aid 35 already have expressed an interest in annexing into Collinsville, Brombolch told a reporter.

The airport currently has two runways, the longest being 3,200 feet long. By expanding it to 4,000 feet, corporate jets could land there and provide quick, easy access to downtown St. Louis firms' headquarters such as Anheuser-Busch and Ralston Purina. Adding landowners are interested in selling the land for the runway, Nichols said.

Schuler said Parks Bt-State Airport in Cahokia serves the same need for corporate aircraft landing, but says Parks may be running out of capacity.

AIRPORTS ARE known to attract industrial development nearby, which could assist this region, a recent state study shows. Brombolch told reporters that the only way the city airport proposal would be feasible is in conjunction with an industrial park proposal near the airport.

Ware, however, estimates that the airport, under municipal control, could show a profit from the opening day if it has 100 or more airplanes based there. During World War II, as many as 150 small private planes were based at Lakeside. Currently, a much smaller number uses it, but with a longer runway, lights, navigation aids and other improvements, it could attract many more airplanes, Ware predicts.

Brombolch cautioned against the public believing the city is ready to act on the proposal, saying it is his duty to do long-range planning. Nichols, however, indicated he may not be patient while a long-range plan is formed.

NICHOLSVILLE'S announcement that it is studying buying and annexing the airport may prompt Quad-City area officials to reconsider local involvement in saving the airport, one Granite City alderman indicated. James Pennekamp, executive director of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, said he is studying news reports on Collinsville's plans but does not want to comment on the issue at this time.

Pennekamp said that the issues have to be studied to determine if the project is feasible. "I wish I had the figures, but when we studied it less than a year ago, the same figures were available and that 5 percent still added up to a whole of a lot of money."

He said annexation of 84 Lumber, D-I-Y Home Improvement Center and even Arlington Heights might produce enough additional taxes to make annexation of those areas and the airport feasible, but there are several problems which have to be studied.

ONE PROBLEM is the lack of city water in the area. Arlington Heights is attempting to get city water, but has had problems, the mayor says.

Another problem is that one landowner has fought city attempts in the past to annex along Route 162 and State Aid 35. "The property owners were against us going out that way," he noted.

Yet another stumbling block may be Nichols' asking price for the land. "Legally, I don't believe we could force him to give us a fair price, but I believe we could barter with Mr. Nichols. Something could be worked out," Schuler said.

"WHEN WE studied it before with Arvin Saunders (former director of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority), almost all of the input from the people in Granite City was it just wasn't feasible. We went to great lengths to look into it," Schuler noted.

He said he even went to Washington, D.C., to discuss the airport with federal transportation and aviation officials.

However, with Parks Airport possibly nearing capacity, the time might be right to reconsider the proposal. Schuler said, pledging that he will be in contact immediately with Ware and other state officials to study the matter further.

assessments are being appealed, Nichols noted.

He said he has tried to get Granite City or Pontoon Beach interested in applying for grants to purchase the airport, but neither showed much interest. A Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce committee studied the issue and Dr. Leo Coleman brought Arvin Saunders' work to the attention of the Granite City Council, but "they turned it down," Nichols recalls.

Pontoon Beach also was interested, but when Village Board President Paul Bennett resigned to move out of the village, the village board lost interest, Nichols contends.

"THE AIRPORT can be bought for nothing. There is some sort of refund, but added that if a city or governmental agency buys part of the property, that money can be applied toward the 5 percent local share.

Ware said he knows of no such refund, but added that if a city or governmental agency buys part of the property, that money can be applied toward the 5 percent local share.

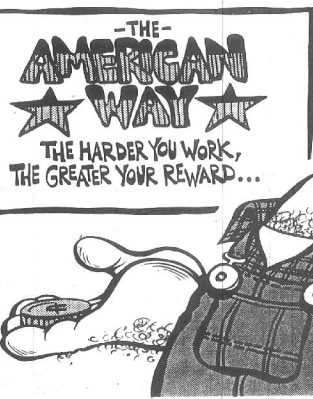

The grants, 90 percent from the federal government and five percent from the state, are from an estimated $825 million which will be made available nationally for airport improvements. The Federal Aviation Administration will determine how the money is expended, Ware said. He noted the Lakeside Airport should receive a high priority due to its location.

THE MONEY can be used to lengthen or improve runways and taxiways, for lighting, ramps, navigational aids and other improvements, but not for buildings, Ware said.

The grants are available to any incorporated municipality, village or township which is interested. When Nichols indicated he was ready to close the facility, the Bureau of Airport Engineering for the state made inquiries over the last several months to all municipalities to determine if any would be interested in buying the facility, Ware said.

Schuler countered, "They didn't talk to me" and said he intends to contact Ware for more details.

Nichols said governmental entities have an advantage over private developers because the grants are limited to incorporated entities.

Help for farmers

JOYCE JOHNSON

STEVEN COOK

VIRGIL WORLEY

GARY PHELPS

Visitors to the Granite City Post Office Wednesday afternoon were asked if the federal government should do more, possibly through low-interest loans, to help farmers avoid foreclosures on their farms. Their comments follow.

Joyce Johnson, Madison

"Yes, I really do. It seems like the major highways happen to be built near the big, beautiful farms that are better off and people might think that the farms (in general) are doing pretty good. The government officials should visit the small, rural farms on the back roads to see how really hard they have it."

Steven Cook, Granite City

"I think so. Farmers are pretty important since they provide us with our food and we all have to eat."

Virgil Worley, Granite City

"No. Farmers have a very complex business to operate and they should handle their finances better so as not to get overextended."

Gary Phelps, Granite City

"Yes, I think so. I think our government should make the same interest rates available to the farmers as they do to foreign countries, like one or two percent. If they (foreign countries) can't or don't pay, our government just writes those loans off. They ought to do it for our farmers as well."

a series of interview sessions that culminated in a 4-3 restructuring of the administrative staff. The superintendent, B.J. Davis, later was dismissed on a 30-day probation.

MIOSKY AND MELTON voted no this week to Hogan and Partney remaining as the two board members on the district's committee to negotiate with certificated employees.

The next certificated talks are set for the fall of 1985.

Hogan had publicly acknowledged during the 1984 negotiations that he made a raise offer of 5 percent and an additional 7 percent in a two-year proposal to teachers. The faculty later accepted a pay freeze, with a salary reopening clause next year.

IN CHICAGO this weekend, Crider will be the district's delegate and Partney will be the alternate at the two attend the annual conference of the Illinois Association of School Boards. No administrators will attend.

Crider will continue as representative to the Quad-City Special Education Board, with Partney as alternate, and Partney will continue as delegate to the Illinois Large District Council, with Miosky as alternate.

Mrs. Lahr will remain on the Chapter 1 Advisory Council, with Crider as alternate, and as Citizens Advisory Council delegate, with Worthen as alternate. She replaces Melton as delegate to the Southwestern Division, Illinois Association of School Boards, with Miosky as alternate.

IT WAS DECIDED to place both Crider and Miosky on the non-certificated negotiating panel.

Miosky had been the member, with Crider as alternate. New alternate will be Mrs. Lahr.

Stikes are continuing with some groups, but the board approved 1984-85 contracts this week with Carpenters, Teamsters, Laborers and Painters. Pay is frozen, and some leave may accumulate to 225 instead of 200 days, and major medical insurance will cover $200,000, instead of $100,000.

POLICY COMMITTEE members will be Partney, Mrs. Lahr and Melton, with Miosky as alternate. Last year, the members were Miosky, Hogan and Mrs. Lahr, with Partney as alternate.

Melton will remain delegate to the Illinois Coalition for Public Education, with Crider as alternate.

Members of the Budget and Finance Committee will be Partney and Worthen, with Miosky as alternate. In 1983-84, Worthen and Hogan were members and Partney was alternate.

SERVING AS PERSONNEL Committee members will be Crider, Mrs.

Lahr and Partney. In the November-to-November year just ended, the committee was composed of Hogan, Mrs. Lahr and Partney.

Worthen voiced sweeping criticism of such a committee existing, saying all seven members have personnel responsibilities and are entitled to full knowledge.

Partney said the Personnel Committee issued written reports to the board. Worthen replied that such reports are insufficient, since they prevent some on the board from hearing full conversations and voicing questions to further illuminate issues.

WHEN PARTNEY CITED the time involved in personnel matters, Miosky and Worthen said board members always have been ready to devote immense amounts of time when needed.

Board members said the Personnel Committee, unlike all other committees, has no precise set of duties, and indicated they feel it has added to rather than eased difficulties. They called for its functions and goals to be spelled out.

Partney said he believes Roberts Rules of Order designate the board president to pick all committees, subject to board ratification.

PRESIDENT HOGAN said he believes his role is to recommend committees for board consideration.

As Miosky called for a legal ruling, Attorney William Schooley, whose law firm was retained for the next year, showed a copy of the booklet containing a phrase that the board is to "elect" its committees.

Miosky said that in his nearly ten years on the board, committees always have been selected as viewpoints were voiced during discussions by the full board.

HE CALLED for legal opinions from the Madison County state attorney and state education authorities. Hogan later softened the bitter exchange by asking for members to be involved in the makeup of committees.

Partney said he also wants a further legal opinion and will seek one from the Illinois Association of School Boards.

Policies now in effect were adopted for 1984-85.

BOARD MEETINGS will continue at 7:30 p.m. on first and third Tuesdays, and the secretary will continue to be paid $360 a year. Miosky donated part of his pay to school-related programs.

Of the new officers, Hogan operates Kelly's plumbing, piping and mechanical contracting firm. Crider is a junior high school teacher in Clayton and Partney is an officer of the Granite Sheet Metal contractors.

would have enough food to survive the next winter. It was Governor Bradford who had the happy inspiration of inviting the Indians to share in a festival of prayer and thanksgiving. This was born the uniquely American day of gratitude, Thanksgiving.

"Later, the Pilgrim fathers used the day to remind their children of the sacrifice and suffering that God had enabled them to endure as a settlement of free people in a free land. They wanted to keep alive the memory of that long 63-day trip on the Mayflower and the first terrible winter that took such a terrible toll of lives. Thus, for the, and for us, Thanksgiving became a fitting reminder of an heroic past," Rev. Pierson noted.

He added, "The Quad-Cities Ministerial Alliance believes that a community celebration in the Thanksgiving season is a useful way of recalling the gifts of God that have made America great. We, therefore, encourage you and your families to join us in the Community Thanksgiving Celebration Monday night."

Freight car demand is up but still low, Amsted says

Amsted Industries, Inc., had net income of $24.2 million, or $2.23 per share, compared to a loss of $3.8 million, or 35 cents a share, in the year ended Sept. 30, 1984.

Sales in 1984 totaled $626.5 million, up 28 percent from $490.2 million in 1983. Amsted owns the American Steel Foundries plant, Granite City, currently closed but expected to reopen.

Robert H. Wellington, Amsted president, said sales and earnings rose in each major product category, reflecting a stronger economy and the continued effects of cost-cutting measures adopted in the past three years.

Sales of construction and building products amounted to $233.3 million, up $11.3 million, or 5 percent. The increase was generated by higher demand for ductile iron pressure pipe and plastic gas pipe, reflecting a stronger housing market.

General industrial product sales were $199.6 million, up $51 million, or 26 percent. The substantial improvement in this category came principally from increased shipments of piston pins for diesel engines, wire rope, powder metal parts, and roller bearings. Sales of fifth wheels for heavy trucks also increased.

Railroad product sales of $193.6

million were up $53.8 million, or 38 percent, due to increased demand for components for both repairs and new freight cars.

While higher than last year, new freight car construction was still extremely low compared to historical levels.

Construction and building products in 1984 had pre-tax operating income of $20.4 million ($10.2 million in 1983); general industrial products $14.3 million ($2 million in '83); and railroad products 1984 income of $12.2 million ($13 million loss last year).

The increased operating income in each product category was primarily because of increased sales volume.

Improved operating efficiencies, cost reduction programs, and modest price increases in most product lines were also factors.

These improvements were partially offset by higher prices for ferrous metal scrap, a major raw material for both railroad and construction and building products.

An eight-week strike at the Chicago plant of the Litho-Strip Division ended Oct. 26 with signing of a new agreement. A strike that began in mid-September at Macwhyte Division's Kenosha, Wis., plant continued.

Capital expenditures in 1984 were $14 million, up from $9.9 million in 1983.

Included in the 1984 expenditures were the fixed assets from the first quarter acquisition of the Broderick and Bascom Rope Co., Sedalia, Mo., which manufactures wire rope products. Most of the remaining expenditures were for necessary replacements of equipment to maintain manufacturing facilities.

Wellington said capital spending in 1985 is expected to total $22 million. The increase is in line with improving business conditions and higher demand for the company's products.

Working capital was $181.5 million, up $36 million from last year. Current assets were $270.9 million, up $58.5 million, and included cash and short-term investments of $72 million, up from $41.5 million a year ago. Liabilities were $89.4 million, up $22.5 million.

There was no long-term debt in either of the past two years.

Amsted's order backlog improved from $92 million a year ago to $118 million at year-end 1984, with the orders for railroad products rising from $17 million to $24 million.

Unfilled orders for railroad products were up because of increasing freight traffic and a modest increase in the backlog for new freight cars, Wellington said.

For 1985, Wellington sees continued improvement in sales and earnings.

A significantly better first half than the year-earlier period is expected, though down from the last half of fiscal 1984 because of seasonal factors.

"A reasonably good level of housing starts is anticipated, but high mortgage rates remain a concern. A stable economy should result in strong sales of general industrial products, particularly piston pins for over-the-road diesel truck engines and powder metal parts," Wellington commented.

"In the railroad segment, a modest improvement in 1985 is anticipated for sales of components for both repair and new cars because of a high rate of rail traffic in the U.S. and a diminished surplus of usable freight cars."

The surplus of cars severely limited requirements for railroad components in the past three years.

"On a longer-term basis, the outlook is for a gradual return to a more normal level of new freight car construction during the last half of this decade and further improved results for Amsted."

The board of directors declared a quarterly dividend of 40 cents per share payable on Dec. 14, to stockholders of record as of the close of business on Nov. 23.

This is an increase of 10 cents from the 30 cents per share paid in the prior quarter. The new dividend action, together with the increase made in the last quarter, fully restores the dividend reduction made in March 1983.

East-West group to hear Henry Reuss

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council will hold its 18th annual meeting and luncheon on Nov. 30, at the Marriott Pavilion Hotel, One Broadway, St. Louis.

"Rebuilding," the theme for the annual meeting, reflects the resurgence of renovation and growth in this region and the continued interest in rebuilding the region's infrastructure, a spokesman said.

Henry S. Reuss, chairman of the National Infrastructure Advisory Committee, will be the featured speaker. A graduate of Cornell University and Harvard Law School, he served as chairman of the U.S. House Committee on Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs from 1975 to 1981 and as chairman of the Joint Economic Committee in 1981-82.

His legislative achievements include the Mass Transit Research Act, the Federal Reserve Reform Act, the Financial Institutions Deregulation Act, the Peace Corps and numerous measures to promote full employment and price stability.

Reuss' other Congressional interests include rehabilitation of historic landmarks, environmental concerns, and the international economy.

Reservations are required and may be made by contacting the Council office at 274-2750. The cost of the luncheon is $20. Activities will begin at 11:30 a.m. and a prime rib luncheon will be served at noon.

Venice council withholds funds from senior group

Venice aldermen approved a motion Tuesday night to withhold all Federal Revenue Sharing funds from the Silver Bell Senior Citizens' organization.

The motion to withhold the money came after a request was made to do so by 24 members of the group. The group said they wanted the money withheld until "all differences, hostility and (questionable methods of conducting) the business meetings by the president be resolved."

The letter went on to say that the group has not been able to conduct one meeting within the guidelines of Robert's Rules of Order, since they moved to the new senior citizens' center. The letter also contends that the president is transacting most of the business outside of the meetings with "members of the city of Madison and a few of the citizens of Venice."

According to Frankie Griggs, one of the signers of the letter, the problems the group is experiencing center around the inclusion of some Newport (Madison) residents in the Venice club. Apparently these Madison residents were being allowed to go along on Venice seniors' field trips without paying for them. Mrs. Griggs said this problem was brought to Mayor Tyrone Echols' attention some time ago and he directed the Silver Bells President Marion Guest to collect fees from the Madison residents.

She said that as a result, the Madison residents decided to leave the club and did so on Nov. 1, taking with them $350 from the club's treasury.

She said the group is not sure what percentage of the funds was taken, since the treasurer, a Madison resident, did not turn in the books when she and the other Madison members left.

Mrs. Griggs said the group is hoping to have an accounting of their treasury and the election of some officers, to help resolve some of the problems.

Savings and loans form consumer lending group

Savings and loan associations traditionally have been thought of in terms of home mortgages, but increasing emphasis may be given in future months and years to consumer lending.

This is the belief of John R. Smith, a former Granite Cityman who serves as consumer loan officer of Clover Leaf Savings and Loan, Edwardsville.

Smith has been elected president of the new Southern Illinois Savings and Loans Consumer Lenders Association.

Thirteen savings and loan groups have joined the association, including First Granite City Savings and Loan of Granite City and Madison County Federal Savings and Loan, Smith said.

The concept is spreading into other areas of the state and nation, he added.

The trade association hopes to increase competition in the financial market and foster reductions in the cost of consumer loans.

Smith commented, "Only in the last few years have regulations been lifted sufficiently to allow S&L firms to make consumer loans."

"Previously, their main loan activity was for mortgages. Now, our association will seek to help savings and loans do a better job for consumers."

"Federal rules were changed in 1980 and many S&Ls in the U.S. began experiencing financial difficulty. Consumer loans will help them stabilize their programs."

"Aggressive marketing is planned and there will be a spotlight on enhancing the existing experience and expertise in arranging loans for automobiles and other large purchases.

"S&Ls are continuing their conservative images while also devising up to the minute, innovative approaches to consumers' financial needs," Smith concluded.

He is a past president of Granite City Toastmasters and past secretary of Granite City Rotarians.

He has been active here in Masonic Triple Lodge 835, the Tri-City Shrine Club, Suburban Baptist Church and the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Smith is past president of the Southern Illinois Lenders Exchange.

Florida post for State Supt. Gill

Retiring Illinois Supt. of Education Donald Gill has announced that, beginning with the 1985 fall semester, he will serve as chairman of the Division of Education for Stetson University in Deland, Fla.

Gill also has been selected to serve as the university's first Jesse Ball duPont Professor of Education. The professorship was recently endowed by the duPont foundation.

The announcement was made jointly by Supt. Gill and Dr. Pope A. Duncan, president of Stetson University.

"Stetson is one of the most prestigious private universities in the South and I am honored to have the opportunity to serve such an outstanding institution of higher learning," Dr. Gill said.

"Leaving Illinois was a difficult decision, but I look forward to this new challenge."

"Illinois certainly has one of the best education systems in the country, and I consider my service as state superintendent the most rewarding in my career. I will be leaving with the knowledge that the State Board of Education will be continuously striving to make Illinois schools even better."

Dr. Duncan said, "Dr. Gill will bring to the university a wealth of expertise which will be most useful in training the future educators of our children."

"His knowledge and skills, which steered the educational reform movement in Illinois, will provide strong guidance for the excellent education programs offered at Stetson."

Founded in 1883, Stetson is the oldest chartered university in Florida. The Baptist-related institution offered the first law schools in Florida and several of the state's first graduate programs in the liberal arts.

The State Board is in the process of selecting a successor for Supt. Gill. He announced in June that he would leave that office in 1985.

GC school levy adjusted, planned total stays same

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

The Granite City Board of Education amended its 1984 tax levy Tuesday night, but there will be no extra cost to taxpayers from the three revisions.

The levy on real estate still totals $9,533,831 and the projected tax rate remains $3.4107, as decided earlier this fall. But it was decided to increase the portion for tort immunity by an eight-cent rate, include five cents for working cash, and decrease the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund (IMRF) rate by 13 cents.

Norman S. Owca, director of finance of School District Nine, related that "through investments and the reduction of non-certificated staff over the last several years, the IMRF pension account balance has increased."

"AT THE SAME TIME," workmen's compensation claims, paid through tort immunity, have increased to a potential liability of $396,193 and we only have $179,848 in the trust account."

"Consequently, we are underfunded $216,345 in the education fund. If we had to pay all or a huge portion of these claims during one school year, it would put an additional strain on the budget and worsen our current cash flow problems."

"Originally, when we decided to go to the taxpayers for a working cash fund bond issue, the Second District Appellate Court of Illinois had ruled that working cash fund bonds could not be used to increase an existing working cash fund, so we had to abolish this fund when we asked the public to pass our bond issue. (Bonds totaling $6.5 million were approved 12,119 to 8,677 last week.)"

"A REVERSAL occurred Oct. 19. The Illinois Supreme Court issued a unanimous decision, 7-4, reversing the Appellate Court decision and sustaining the practice of issuing working cash fund bonds to increase an existing working cash fund."

"We received this information Oct. 31 from the law offices of Chapman & Cutler, the bonding company that will handle the legal work on our bonds."

"Therefore, we recommend restoring the five-cent working cash fund rate so that the district can borrow from itself and save interest costs."

"If assessed valuation stays the same, this would allow us to use $125,000. If the valuation increases to what we have filed, we would be able to use not just $125,000 but close to $140,000 interest-free—a benefit to taxpayers."

IT WAS LEGALLY possible to restore the five-cent working cash fund rate, decrease the IMRF by 13 cents and increase the tort immunity rate by 13 cents for a net District Nine increase of five cents, but the board decided Tuesday night against going beyond the rate it had announced to the public prior to the Nov. 6 school finance election.

Board Members Dewey Melton, Thomas Mlofsky and Monroe Worthen said they felt the public would not object to transfers within the overall levy as long as the total was not changed.

There will now be $139,763 for working cash, replacing the abolished cash fund, $358,927 instead of $315,947 for tort immunity, and $203,774 instead of $567,418 for IMRF.

THE NET EFFECT is that the district is transferring $363,643 from the pension account, putting $223,800 of it in tort immunity and the other $139,763 in working cash.

David Partney, retiring board president, said the board is still considering the possibility of resubmitting a 40-cent education fund rate limit increase to voters in April 1985. A new rate ceiling lost by 293 votes (10,602 yes to 10,295 no) Nov. 6, when 22,648 ballots were cast, the official canvass showed.

Supt. Frank L. Kraus said after the meeting that he is advising the board to delay an election decision for the time being while additional revenue data and spending patterns are compiled.

If the full 40-cent change is found to be unnecessary, a lesser amount could be placed on the ballot, Kraus mentioned.

GC students named in 1984 'Who's Who'

The 1984 edition of "Who's Who in Music" will include the names of four Granite City High School students who have been selected as being among the country's most outstanding high school musicians.

Those students are Kevin Scott Dook, Deron Griffin, Melissa Stinson and Linda Briner. Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

The students were selected from more than 1,300 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directories since the first publication in 1934.

FALLS ASLEEP, HITS TREE

James Fensterman, 43, of 2208 Benton St., was injured during the weekend when he fell asleep and his southbound auto left the 2200 block of Fehling Road, striking a tree near the Granite City High School football field at a point north of a school entrance road.

Hagnauer announces bid for re-election

Nelson "Nellie" Hagnauer of Granite City, chairman of the Madison County Board, told the Press-Record yesterday afternoon that he intends to seek re-election as chairman of the Madison County Board in December.

Hagnauer is serving his seventh consecutive term as chairman of the Madison County Board.

HE WAS first elected to the board in 1955, as a representative of Granite City Township. However, since 1972, when the board reorganized, he has represented District 20.

In making his announcement, Hagnauer identified what he considered to be the most significant accomplishments of the county over the past two years, including:

Securing an A.O. Smith Urban Development Action Grant, resulting in the reopening of the plant and the creation of 550 jobs and a revolving loan fund for economic development in the county in excess of $1 million.

THE CREATION of more than 650 jobs due to the inception of miscellaneous county and federal grants and the implementation of the Madison County Industrial and Commercial Low Interest Loan Program.

Assuming responsibility for programs terminated by the Economic Opportunity Commission, such as the cheese distribution program, energy assistance and weatherization programs and Community Services Block Grant Program.

Assumed administration of the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) program, which replaced the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) in cooperation with the Madison-Bond County Private Industry Council.

Bell asks for late charges and higher rates for some

Illinois Bell proposed Tuesday establishing a late payment charge for overdue phone bills but proposed no increases in basic local phone service.

In a filing with the Illinois Commerce Commission, the company also proposed increases in directory assistance charges, Call Waiting service and Touch-Tone service starting Jan. 1, 1985. Some service connection charges would be increased.

CHARGES AND cost-savings associated with the late payment charge would generate $18 million in revenues for Illinois Bell. Increases in other services will result in additional revenues of about $28 million.

"Many customers who pay their bills on time would not be affected by this change," said Fred Konrad, Illinois Bell assistant vice president regulatory. "Since most of the increases are in optional services, customers will be able to make choices about their service needs. Customers with optional services would see less than a two percent increase in their monthly bills."

The company, which recovers additional depreciation expenses, is important to customers because we will be able to use more efficient, cost-saving equipment. The additional revenue will be available to replace and modernize our equipment to meet our customers' expectations for service."

DEPRECIATION expenses account for about one-fourth of Illinois Bell's annual expenses.

The company has proposed that customers not paying their bill by the due date listed on the bill would have a 1.5 percent charge on the overdue amount.

"Most of our customers pay their bills on time," Konrad said, "but it costs all Illinois Bell customers when we extend credit at no charge to those who don't pay on time."

THE COMPANY proposed increasing residence Call Waiting service from $2.52 to $3. Residence rates for Speed Calling, Call Forwarding and Three-Way Calling would be reduced two cents from $2.52 to $2.50.

Rates for residence Touch-Tone service would increase seven cents from 73 cents to 80 cents. Business Touch-Tone service would increase 30 cents, from $1.45 to $1.75.

Directory assistance charges would increase 30 cents to 35 cents. Hospitals and hotels would not be excluded from directory assistance charges. Exemptions for disabled customers and for calls from pay phones still would be allowed.

RESIDENCE customers would continue to have a two-call directory assistance call allowance, but the two-call allowance would be discontinued for business customers.

"Eliminating some of our directory assistance exemptions will allow us to place the charges for the service on the customers who cause the costs rather than averaging those costs among all our customers," Konrad said.

Illinois Bell proposed to increase the residence service order charge to establish service from $28 to $4.50. The line connection charge for business and residence customers would increase to $20.50 from $16.50. The business service order charge would increase to $64 from $54.

"WE ARE restructuring our rates so that customers who use the services pay for them," Konrad said. "This is not only the fairest method of pricing, but is essential in the increasingly competitive environment in which Illinois Bell must do business."

The company has requested that the new rates be effective Jan. 1, 1985.

Krystal Holmes, 22, St. Louis, was arrested at Ken's Lounge near 20th Street and Washington Avenue at 5 p.m. Monday after two incidents outside, in the vicinity of 2003 Washington.

She was charged with aggravated assault after grabbing a six-year-old boy about the throat, inflicting bruises, and also displaying a steak knife and threatening to stab him. The youngster has an unrelated health problem that may cause him to go blind.

The St. Louisian also was booked for battery for allegedly choking a girl, seven years old, causing several red marks on the child's throat and upper chest area.

The two children were in a group that had been playing outdoors. Witnesses said that, upon approaching the girl, the woman asked, "Where's my money?"

The suspect was jailed and police confiscated a knife from her parked auto.

Fatalities down in state, up in county

Illinois traffic fatalities have resumed their downward trend, with October deaths decreasing 14.5 percent from the same month in 1983 and also bringing the 10-month total below what was recorded for the same time last year.

The Illinois Department of Transportation and Illinois State Police said the provisional total of 1,283 fatalities for ten months of 1984 is down 0.5 percent from the 1,289 deaths in January-October 1983, and 7.6 percent lower than the 1,389 deaths in 1982's first ten months.

In October, there were 150 deaths as a result of 121 accidents, a decrease of 14.5 percent from the 152 fatalities in October 1983.

There were 24 pedestrians killed in 24 accidents; one person killed in a railroad crossing accident; 12 persons killed in 11 crashes involving motorcycles and three pedalcyclists killed in three accidents. Madison County had eight traffic deaths last month and 47 so far this year, compared to six and 37 a year ago.

Venice refers bus shelter issue to school district

Members of the Venice City Council referred a communication from the Metro-East Transit District to the Venice School Board at the city council meeting Tuesday night.

The letter pertains to an agreement the transit district is seeking with the city of Venice for the provision of bus shelters.

The only bus shelter to be included in the agreement, however, is one at the Venice-Lincoln Technical Center.

Mayor Tyrone Echols suggested that the matter be referred to the Venice School Board, since most of the persons who will be utilizing the bus stop will be coming to and from the school.

Several aldermen added that they were not in favor of the agreement, since it leaves too much responsibility regarding the maintenance of the shelter up to the city.

In other business, Venice aldermen approved the arrest report for the month of October. The report showed that there were a total of 85 men arrested and 23 women arrested. Fines collected during the month totaled $4,160.

Also submitted was a traffic report on the McKinley Bridge for the month of October. The total amount of traffic on the bridge was 512,883 vehicles. The daily average for the bridge is 14,858 vehicles per day. This represents an average daily increase of 2,187 vehicles per day, as compared with October 1983.

Diabetes is subject of area conference

The Madison County Branch of the American Diabetes Association, Greater St. Louis Affiliate, will conduct its first area conference on diabetes at 12:45 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 17, at the Granite City Center off Route 203 on Maryville Road.

According to a spokesman, the four-hour program will focus on diabetic complications, diabetes and stress, and holiday tips for the diabetic. The conference is produced in cooperation with Alton Memorial Hospital, Belleville Area College and St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The program is free of charge and open to the public. Further information may be obtained by calling 345-9793.

Additional business included a request from Alderman John Ervin to contact a person from Illinois Power regarding street lights that have not been working in his ward.

Aldermen George Mangiaracino

requested that some members of the city street department check the drainage flow of sewer lines on Lincoln and Washington avenues. He said he has received numerous complaints about drainage problems on those streets whenever there is a heavy rainfall. Aldermen also accepted a bid for salt to be used in the snow removal process, from Domtar Salt. The bid price is $24.25 per ton delivered.

Visit Granite A St. Louis Football Cardinals collection

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Schedules become pretty hectic during football season for members of the St. Louis Football Cardinals. Every day is football. Game day is followed by game films, strategy sessions, practices and then more practices.

In fact, during the season which begins with pre-season training camp in August and doesn't conclude until January, the only day of the week which members of the Big Red can call their own is Tuesday. It's the one day of the week which they can do whatever they want.

WELL, Tuesday six members of the Big Red decided to spend part of their day off dining in Granite City at Charlie's Restaurant. They were the personal guests of Charlie Hester and State Farm Insurance man Mike Toundas of Granite City.

Toundas, who insures Stump Mitchell, Willard Harrell and Earl Ferrell, invited the three to Granite City for lunch. Accompanying the three Cardinals running backs were tight end Greg LaFleur, Otis Anderson and Randy Love.

When Toundas called early, making reservations for the luncheon engagement, Hester was more than accommodating.

"Charlie really went out his way to make them feel at home," Toundas said. "Whatever they wanted — crab legs, shrimp, scallops, steak — he made sure they got."

They arrived about 12:35 p.m. Tall, muscular, intimidating. They look bigger on the field, complete with shoulder pads, but they still looked plenty big Tuesday.

Charlie's was packed, after all it was the noon hour. But you should have seen the heads turn when they walked in. And get silent, you would have thought it was an E.F. Hutton commercial.

Finally, one guy seated on the upper dining room, whispered, "I think they're Football Cardinals. That looks like O.J."

THE OBSERVER thought his whisper was low enough that only those dining with him could hear, but in the silence his voice carried far enough for others to hear. It was a big event for everyone. Toundas, Hester were extremely glad to see them.

But as much an honor and as memorable as it was for Toundas and Hester to host the group, Mrs. Helen Toundas, Toundas' wife, was probably the most impressed by the group.

"You know they are all such nice people," Mrs. Toundas began. "They're all so polite and they each said their prayers before they ate. They're never rude. They were so gracious."

"It was inspiring to see such fine, young men."

SPORTS Thursday

LeBrun: A Steel City ironman whose goal is fitness

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

It may be the fastest growing sport in the world with over 100,000 competing this year. It is one of the youngest, being given birth in 1977 by a U.S. Naval Commander and a couple of officers who, while mixing drinks with talk in a Hawaiian bar, plotted what might happen if they combined the rigors of swimming 1.2 miles, biking 11.2 miles and running the equivalent of a marathon, 26.2 miles: all in one day.

From this sprouted the sport known as the "Triathlon." By the way, it is also considered the toughest, rigorous sport activity on the face of the globe or, as stated somewhat more mildly by Triathlon Magazine, "the world's most grueling sports event."

No wonder Rene LeBrun, 54, of Granite City, and one of 1,035 competitors in the "Bud Light Ironman Triathlon World Championship" held Oct. 6 on the island of Kona in Hawaii is smiling so broadly.

LeBrun was the only area St. Louisian to compete in what he describes as the "granddaddy" of all Triathlon events. He was also one of a record low 903 who finished.

It says "Finisher" on the black shirt he wore proudly: the one he was handed after crossing the finish line 15 hours, nine minutes and 30 seconds after starting in the wee hours that morning.

That was his goal: to finish. "That's the one you want," says LeBrun of the shirt. Besides the shirt, LeBrun was also given a medal for finishing.

Of the slightly more than 900 who finished, LeBrun placed 782nd. He completed the 1.2 mile swim which took competitors along the coast of Kona — in one hour, 57 minutes and 24 seconds.

He biked the 11.2 miles in five hours, 35 minutes and 13 seconds: despite hills that elevated bikers as much as 500 feet over an 18-mile stretch, and wind gusts of up to 30 m.p.h. LeBrun timed himself at 7 m.p.h. into the wind, and 37 m.p.h. with the wind at his back. "It was unbelievable," he said.

Temperatures exceeded 100 degrees during the afternoon, leading to the record number of dropouts.

LeBrun completed the marathon run — the last stage of the event — in seven hours, 35 minutes and fifty one seconds. He ended with a kick, completing the last mile of the run in seven minutes.

He started at 4:30 a.m. with toast and coffee. His wife, Joan, who accompanied him, presented him with a bottle of champagne when he finished.

And, he said he felt great the next morning.

"It was something," said LeBrun. The winner was Dave Scott, of California, who completed the Triathlon in eight hours and fifty four minutes. Scott is 30 years old.

In fact, the average age of the those participating was 35 years for men, and 25 for women. They were also a well-educated group. Sixty-five percent of them had college degrees, with 30 percent of having earned post graduate degrees.

The oldest participant was 68. One of the older ones in the group passed away. "I can really get humbling when someone 65 passes you up," says LeBrun with a smile. "That's the one thing about this sport. You can't fake it. You either have it, or you don't."

It isn't surprising LeBrun finished. He's proven he's had what it takes since 1977 when, upset with the state of his health and mounting flab, he decided to get into shape. LeBrun, whose short-cropped hair is sprinkled with gray, is a Senior Instrument Inspector for Shell Oil Co. in Wood River. A native of Lewiston, Maine, LeBrun began working for Shell Oil in 1955. He and his family moved to Granite City in 1958.

LeBrun and his wife, Joan, whom he describes as his "coach and supporter," have three children: Dan 25, Mike, 24, and Denise, who is 19.

In talking about his finish in his first Triathlon, LeBrun doesn't focus on himself. He presents mountains of literature boosting the sport and the benefits of being physically fit.

While he has a story to tell, so do the other 1,034 who took part, he points out. And he points to some of them.

For instance, there was Joan Joesting, LeBrun notes. At 46, she was a woman whose story you sometimes see mirrored on one of those made for TV movies. She continually was physically beaten by her husband, and was addicted to alcohol and drugs. That's when she started bike riding. One such excursion took her around the perimeter of Australia and across the United States. She entered her first Triathlon in 1981. She also wrote a book about it, "Bicycling Down Under: Of The Sauce."

There was Allen Rosen, who was found to have a malignant tumor two years ago. After four months of radiation treatments, Rosen added swimming and running to his repertoire of exercises and trained for the

"You feel better about yourself. Your self-image is much better. It seems like there's nothing you can't accomplish."

Rene LeBrun
Triathlete Ironman

1984 Triathlon.

Says Joesting in a published article, "If a 42-year-old mother can leave a battering husband, recover from multiple addictions, cycle 13,000 miles alone in a strange country, write a book and become a triathlete, what could be impossible?"

Says Rosen, "The doctors attribute a great deal of my success and stability to the outstanding condition I was in. I attribute this entirely to my participation in the Ironman."

Says LeBrun, "You feel better about yourself. Your self-image is much better. It seems like there's nothing you can't accomplish."

"The biggest excuse (people give for not working out) is they don't have time," LeBrun says. "You have to take care of No. 1."

No. 1 being good health. "If you don't have good health, you don't have anything," LeBrun points out.

LeBrun, who is 5-11, weighed 210 pounds seven years ago. He was so out of shape that jogging a half of a mile was difficult. His resting pulse rate was nearly 80 beats per minute.

Now, despite being able to eat more than he once did because of his exercising, his weight has dropped to the 165-170-pound range. His resting pulse rate is 50: 48 in the morning.

"I feel so good, I hate to quit," says LeBrun. "The body has its own rhythm. If you sit down in a rocking chair, you're not going to be around."

LeBrun says he has received much support from neighbors and fellow workers, although there was one man who accused him of "abusing" his body. "He was dragging on a cigarette when he said it, and he weighed 300 pounds," says LeBrun. "You just have to smile and take it in stride. Most people are for it."

After deciding to become fit, LeBrun "poled" in a canoe the length of the Meramec River. He averaged 26 miles per day for the eight days he was on the river. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch wrote an article about it. LeBrun's hair was much darker then.

From there, LeBrun began biking: 25 miles to and from work. When fall arrived bringing with it darkness in the late afternoon, LeBrun switched to running. He began jogging on Poag Rd. He remembered trying a half of a mile, and nearly quitting because of the strain. "That wasn't for me at all," he said.

But he kept at it, and began increasing his distance. He and daughter, Denise, took in a St. Louis marathon and, LeBrun said, "I got hooked to do one."

He has; several. Not only marathons, but also ultramarathons, where the distance is greater than 26.2 miles. He has done 14 marathons and ultramarathons, some of them as much as 62 miles in length.

He loves running in cold weather. Remember that day in 1981 when the wind chill factor was 62 degrees — below zero? LeBrun ran a 15-mile race in St. Louis. "A lot of people said I was crazy," LeBrun admits.

Staying in shape, LeBrun says, has become a way of life. Here he nods in the direction of his wife, with whom he recently celebrated a 25th wedding anniversary. "She's my coach and my supporter," says

EDWARDSVILLE — Paula Wise, a former head volleyball coach at Granite City North High School and currently the volleyball and softball coach at Gateway Christian High School in St. Louis, has been named head coach of the newly-formed volleyball club at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Wise, who coached at Granite City North in 1982 before the school closed, explained that while the sport will not compete on the inter-collegiate level, the SIUE club will participate in several area tournaments and leagues. Already on the schedule for the 1984-85 season will be Tuesday night matches as part of the North St. Louis County YMCA League. The Cougars will also participate in three U.S. Volleyball Association sanctioned

SUWE Wrestling

Champion Cougars begin new season Friday at Forest Park

EDWARDSVILLE — The wrestling Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will take their first step toward defending their NCAA Division II national championship this weekend as they enter the 1984-85 season with both a tournament and a dual match.

The Cougars, who last year won their first NCAA-II Tournament title in 10 years of finishing as one of the top six teams, open the 1984-85 campaign Friday as part of the St. Louis Open Tournament in Forest Park. A two-day event, SUWE (head coach Larry Kristoff) is expected to have everyone in their final test before meeting the team which will face the University of Oklahoma, Sunday, Nov. 18, in the Cougars' home-venue.

Against Oklahoma, the Cougars could line up with as many as eight returning NCAA-II All-Americans, including Booker Benford who placed third in the NCAA-I Championship.

Sunday's match against the Sooners, who finished fifth in last year's NCAA-I Tournament, is scheduled to get underway at 2 p.m. pending approval of the new Edgemoor Center, the meet could be the first intercollegiate event in the $12.5-million facility. If not approved, the meet will be held in the University Center.

The Cougars will make a run at the second national title on the strength of three returning Division I national champions and five other All-Americans. Tim Wright, the 115-pounder who became the first cougar in history to win a national championship in his freshman year.

Sheikh has hand in WU victory

The Washington University Batling Bears are one of eight teams still vying for the 1984 NCAA Division III Soccer Championship.

The Bears advanced to the second round of tournament play with a 1-0 overtime triumph of Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware, Ohio, on Saturday.

St. Louisian George Chopin, the leading scorer for the Bears this season with 23 goals, tallied his seventh game-winner of the year at 102:34 (7:46 remaining in the second overtime) to give WU the victory and an opportunity to capture the Great Lakes Regional final this Saturday, Nov. 17.

The Bears, 15-3-2, will play No. 1 regional and nationally seeded Wheaton College at 1 p.m. Saturday.

According to WU Sports Information Director Mike Wolf, David Sheikh of Granite City "played admirable for the Bears." A back, Sheikh and fellow back Shawn Kinare "made personal sacrifices to keep the Ohio Wesleyan from scoring in the final minutes of the game."

Sheikh, a 1982 graduate of Granite City North High School, has two goals and two assists for the Bears this season.

Park basketball league signup

The Granite City Park District is taking team applications to complete its coming basketball leagues.

The entry fee is $125. The non-resident fee is $17.50 for any player who does not live in the Granite City Park District. Games will be played during the week.

Anyone who has a team that may be interested should contact John Lakin, recreation supervisor, 877-3059.

figures to anchor the weight class for the next three years.

The combination of Booker Benford and Ernie Badger at 177 and 190-pounds figures to give the Cougars one of the strongest back-to-back combinations in the country.

Benford, a three-time NCAA-II All-American, won the Division II title last year and went on to place third in the Division I Tournament, the highest finish ever by a Cougar. Badger, a junior from Mt. Vernon, capped his first All-American performance last year by winning the gold medal at the Division II event.

The Cougars will also return two NCAA-II runner-ups, 158-pounder Mark Kristoff and 142-pounder Maurice Brown. Three other All-Americans, 124-pounder Alan Grammer, heavyweight Al Sears and 126-pounder Steve Stearns, who sat out last season with an injury after placing third in the 1983 championship, all give the Cougars reason to be optimistic about keeping the national championship trophy.

Warriors On Display

Cage scrimmage Friday

Trying to give his team the opportunity to perform before a crowd before its first game of the season, Granite City High School basketball coach Don Deterding has scheduled an intra-squad scrimmage Friday at 7:30 p.m.

"We want to give our kids the opportunity to play before a crowd before our first game," Deterding said.

"We feel like it will help if they play before a crowd before we begin our season."

The Warriors, who look like they may field their best team in some time this season, begin action next Friday, Nov. 23, as they enter the Mt. Vernon Turkey Classic.

Admission to the scrimmage is free.

At Banquet GCHS honors golfers, spikers, netters and distance people

By JAMES BLASINGAME
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Granite City High School athletes were honored at the Fall Sports Banquet last night in the high school's cafeteria. The fall sports included girls' tennis and volleyball, golf and cross country.

Warrior tennis coach Dick Harmon presented the following awards to his squad: best doubles team, to Dawn Schwartz and Maria Parra, most improved player, to Jill Wertheis, and best singles record, to Beth Sues.

On Sues, Coach Harmon stated, "She's a great competitor. She hated to lose. You don't find that kind of desire in people too often anymore."

Tennis standout Sherri Ousley received Honorable Mention status on the All Southwestern Conference Team.

In golf, coach Russ Chappell awarded Chris Carden the trophy for best average, and presented Eldon Depew with the most improved player award. Carden, along with teammate Bill Gaumer, was selected to the All Conference Second Team.

"Chris is capable of playing golf at the college level if he works at it," said Chappell. "He can take himself as far as he wants to go."

Mike Sturman received a trophy for the second consecutive year for being the team's best putter. Sturman also was an Honorable Mention player to the All Conference Team.

Michelle Morgan was selected by volleyball coach Wilma Schulze as the most valuable server and the most valuable setter.

"She (Morgan) is one of the most mature, polished volleyball players we've ever had at Granite City," Schulze said.

The most valuable spiker award and the most valuable receiver award went to Debbie Brandt. "Debbie has the most natural talent of any girl on the team. She has good anticipation and the ability to hit the ball from the other side of the net," said Schulze.

CROSS country coach Dave Mc-

Clain named Lora Wiser as the most valuable girl on the team and chose John Varadian as the most valuable boy.

Wiser was recently selected by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch as being one of the top five runners in the Metro area.

She has tremendous talent. Lora has been blessed with good running form and the desire to compete. She's a real pleasure to be around," said McClain.

McClain called Varadian "a mature junior," and expects him to be the team leader next season.

THE MOST improved girl award went to Melody Witt, while Mike Charbonnier and Derrick Drumtra shared the most improved boy award.

Michelle Shoemaker received the most consistent girl award, and Charlie Porter was named the most consistent boy.

Chuck Gardner was named the Granite City Center Athlete of the Week for November 5-11. Chuck earned six points for the Stars' wrestling squad in winning a superior decision, 15-0, over his opponent from Meramac Community College in the 126-pound division.

The Granite City Center sophomore established his winning ways last year as he placed fourth in the Regionals as a sophomore, missing Nationals by one place. Coach Walt Whitaker noted, "Chuck's effort and dedication have marked him as a real team leader. He has been a source of stability for the wrestling program since its inception one year ago."

The West Frankfort High School graduate plans to transfer on to a four-year school and wrestle at the NCAA level.

Bicentennial of Methodism at Trinity

The bicentennial of Methodism will be celebrated with a special musical program Sunday, Nov. 18, at Trinity United Methodist Church, 25th and Henry streets, to begin at 7 o'clock in the evening, according to the Rev. J. Michael Smith.

This musical program will focus on selected hymns from the various periods of American Methodist history and will conclude with several Charles Wesley hymns, Rev. Smith added.

Methodists across the nation are observing 1984 as the 200th year Methodists have been organized as a church. Prior to 1784, Methodism was a movement within already established churches, Anglican, Lutheran, and Reformed.

In 1784, at the end of the Revolutionary War, the uncertain future of the Anglican churches and demands of a rapidly westward expanding country produced the new denomination.

Methodists were formally organized as a church on Christmas Eve, 1784, in Baltimore. The denomination traces its roots to German pietism and John Wesley's theology.

While the Methodists sprang from the Church of England, the Evangelical Association grew out of American Lutheran Churches, and the United Brethren in Christ grew from the Reformed Churches.

Today, through a series of mergers, the Methodists, the Evangelicals, and the United Brethren constitute the United Methodist Church.

There are six United Methodist Churches in the Quad-City area, Trinity at 26th and Henry streets, Niedringhaus, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, Nameoki, at Pontoon Road and Primrose Avenue, and the First United Methodist Church in Madison.

The offering for the evening will be given to the Meals On Wheels program from St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City.

Good Shepherd, 3025 National Ave., Desverey Avenue, 2136 Dewey Ave. and First United Methodist, Fifth and Ewing streets in Madison.

The public is invited to attend the program and worship service, Rev. Smith added.

Thanksgiving Eve service in Madison

On Thanksgiving Eve pastors and congregations in the city of Madison will gather at 7:30 p.m. to share in a service of worship at the First Baptist Church in Madison, located at Fifth and Alton Streets, Madison.

A fellowship hour will follow the service and all are invited to attend. Congregations and pastors participating in this service are: First Baptist of Madison, Rev. Verlin Smith, pastor; Temple Baptist, Herman Pahlter, pastor; Rev. Vernon Brown, pastor of the Madison Methodist Church and Rev. Charlotte Zachary, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Madison.

The offering for the evening will be given to the Meals On Wheels program from St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City.

FIRST BAPTIST YOUTH PARTICIPATE IN PARK OUTING
The youth from First Baptist Church recently traveled to Pere Marquette State Park for a day of horseback riding. Following the outing, the youths were treated to pizza and soda.

Those attending were Donald and Tim Graham, Michael, Ritchie and Tami Dunbar, Eric Homyer, Kenny Graham, Patty Milner and Melba Topal.

Special event at parish school meeting

St. Joseph's CCD Parish School of Religion hosted a Halloween party during a regularly scheduled class and as the children gathered to celebrate the 11 a.m. Mass the third and fourth graders presented a banner they created reflecting the theme, Love Thy Neighbor as Yourself.

Miss Vicky Schwartz is the class instructor.

A brief presentation of the origin of Halloween was given, dating back to an ancient Celtic civilization, the Druids, who celebrated the Festival, Samhain or Summer's End on Oct. 31. Nov. 1st was the beginning of their new year and on that day they worshipped their sun god and lord of the dead, according to the teacher.

The story continued, "With the invasion of Britain by the Romans, the Celtic customs vanished and Samhain was given the name All Hallows, celebrating the Roman religious day, Peralia, a day given to praying for the dead; especially honoring those heroes of Rome who died for their country. When gradually the Eve of All Hallows came to be the time of celebration, the day was called Halloween."

All Saints Day was first suggested in the 4th century, when the Christians were no longer being persecuted by the Romans, in memory of all the saints, since there were too many for each to have a special day on the church calendar. It became a day to reflect on the meaning of life.

After the class session refreshments were served.

STUDENTS. Banner created by third and fourth grade students at St. Joseph CCD Parish School, is displayed at a Mass following the class session. The theme reflected the gospel reading of the group.

New Hope Baptist plans mortgage burning event

Snowman's Ball slated

The St. Mary-St. Mark parent-teachers organization will host its ninth annual Snowman's Ball on Saturday, Dec. 1, at Englebert Hall, 10th Street and Washington Avenue in Madison.

Volunteer catering will serve dinner beginning at 7 p.m., and Vince's International will play for dancing at 8:30 p.m.

Tickets are $7.50 per person, and the public is invited to attend. The deadline for obtaining tickets is Nov. 16. No tickets will be sold at the door, and table reservations can be made only after tickets are purchased. Tickets may be bought at St. Mary's Rectory or from Delores Brinker at 876-9118.

The celebration will be an all-day event with a potluck meal to immediately following the morning worship service, and the special service to begin in the afternoon.

According to Rev. Shockley, the Rev. Junior Adams of New Douglas, Ill., and former pastor of the church, will serve as guest speaker during the celebration service.

Special music has been planned and will feature The Harvest Gospel Band of Granite City.

New Hope Church, a member of the 24 churches in Madison County Southern Baptist Association, began as a mission church from the West 22nd Street Southern Baptist Church and will mark 20 years since its organization during the Sunday observance, the host minister explained.

Laureate members tour Hermann, Mo.

Laureate Alpha Gamma members spent a day in Hermann, Mo., where they toured the Stone Hill Winery, one of the oldest wineries still in operation in the United States. The winery has been in continuous operation, except for the prohibition years, when only grape juice was legal.

Many of the original huge hardwood vats may be seen, but are not in use. After luncheon at the Bavarian Inn, where German cuisine was enjoyed, the group visited various craft and antique shops, followed by a tour of a German School Museum.

The drive home was especially enjoyable, due to the fall foliage, which was extremely colorful, the members noted.

Members and husbands who made the tour were, Bill and Imogene Forrest, Lewis Earl and Norma Rains, Mrs. Arlene Haldeman and Miss Ruth Stoyanoff.

Mrs. Ambuehl is circle hostess

Mrs. Karen Ambuehl, 2713 Sunset Drive, was hostess for the monthly meeting of the Esther Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Ethel Lerch conducted the meeting and announced 53 visits were made by members during the month of October.

The Colonnades Nursing Home residents will celebrate their monthly birthday at a party on Nov. 28, it was announced.

Others in attendance were Helen Pregel, Grace Paddock, Shirley Lane, Evelyn Hamrick, Dorothy Frohardt, Eula Davis, Blanche DeBow, Ruby Corbett and Jean Wallace.

The Holiday bazaar will be Nov. 16 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in Wesley Hall. Luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Christmas decorations, craft, wreaths, full-sized quilt, baby quilts, and afghans, jellies, relishes, pear honey, candy, cakes, pies, will be sold.

This engagement will be the Pantkrat only stop in the southern Illinois area, the Rev. C. Dale Edwards announces.

Having appeared on a number of national telecasts and often traveling with the Blackwood Brothers, the "Russians" are known for their abilities as songwriters, musicians, and speakers, Rev. Edwards said.

Members of the quartet are: Kent Perry and Randy Orsak, violin; Robert Schieber, viola; and Joseph Pival, cello. Friends and neighbors are invited to attend, Rev. R. L. Butler said.

FARMERS ASKED TO DONATE GRAIN TO 4-H

Farmers willing to give a bushel or two of grain each to 4-H are providing the means for many youth to become worthwhile and productive citizens.

Just a bushel from each farmer delivering grain to elevators throughout the county will provide money to be tripled by large corporations who recognize 4-H as the largest youth educational program in the nation.

The large amount of money to be raised in this once-in-a-lifetime campaign will be invested. Earnings from those investments will provide quality programs for years despite government cutbacks which are appearing in all areas, a 4-H spokesman said.

SIUE center to assist manufacturers is proposed

Funding to establish a Center for Advanced Manufacturing and Production (CAMP) to assist industry and business in developing and implementing advanced technology has been requested at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The SIUE Board of Trustees approved a proposal last week to amend SIUE's Fiscal Year 1985

Resource Allocation and Management Program planning document by adding the new program request, with funding of $248,000, and deleting the special analytical study entitled Special Deferred Maintenance List, with funding in the same amount.

The planning documents, initially approved by the Board on July 12, will be submitted to the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) for review and consideration.

University officers explained that the CAMP proposal was not complete when the planning documents were first considered in July because development of the proposals involved an extended study of the needs of business and industry in Southwestern Illinois. The study, and development of the proposal, was a collaborative effort of the SIUE Graduate School and the schools of business, engineering, fine arts and communications and sciences.

According to the proposal, CAMP is a direct extension of the university's efforts to promote economic development and to aid in the revitalization of industry and business in the region. If established, the center is expected to perform four primary functions: promote cooperative research and development; develop applications of technology to specific cooperative processes; promote technology transfer and employee training; and provide educational programs to prepare University students for advanced management and engineering careers.

University officers said CAMP will provide a means for helping traditional business and industry modernize and increase productivity. It also is expected to be a means for attracting new businesses to the area, and "through the center, the university will have the opportunity to unite business, industry, labor, government and education in cooperative relationships for economic revitalization," the proposal stated.

In addition, it was pointed out that the university's professional programs would be enriched and research opportunities for faculty would increase, while work-study, internship and employment opportunities for students would be enhanced.

If approved by the IBHE and the legislature, the fund request would permit the center to be established during the year beginning July 1, 1985. Additional state funds would be requested in subsequent years to complete development of the center. The university also is preparing an application for grant funding for submission to the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

University officers said it was agreed that establishing the center was of greater importance to the university and the region than was the request for deferred maintenance items originally submitted.

Office hours extended for tax amnesty program

State Revenue Director J. Thomas Johnson has announced the Revenue offices will be open until 9 p.m. on Tuesdays, effective immediately, in order to assist delinquent taxpayers with filing state Tax Amnesty applications.

"We want to make sure our citizens have every opportunity to take advantage of this one-time-only Tax Amnesty offer," Johnson said. "These extended hours will enable citizens to stop by any Revenue office after work on Tuesdays or to call the toll-free Amnesty lines, 1-800-BACKTAX," Johnson added.

Johnson urged taxpayers to take advantage of the extended hours in order to avoid the last-minute rush anticipated after the Thanksgiving holidays. The Tax Amnesty program ends on Nov. 30. Regular office hours will resume in December.

Johnson reported the Tax Amnesty collections for the first five weeks of the program totaled $8.9 million. "More than 1,000 persons applied for Amnesty last week, making it the busiest week so far," Johnson said.

He said that the checks last week ranged from $238,901 in sales taxes from three affiliated suburban corporations to 97 cents in withholding taxes from a Southern Illinois bank. Applications also were received from a Southern Illinois funeral home, a California car dealer and a Chicago cab driver.

The two-month Tax Amnesty period (Oct. 1 through Nov. 30) was created by legislation signed Sept. 16 by Illinois Governor James R. Thompson. Amnesty offers individuals and businesses an opportunity to clear up past tax debts without fear of prosecution. In addition, Amnesty saves the taxpayer penalty charges and half the interest which otherwise would have been paid.

Any person or business who owes for periods before July 1, 1983, may be eligible for Amnesty. All state taxes collected by the Illinois Department of Revenue are included, income, sales, motor fuel, liquor, cigarette, bingo and others. This does not include taxes collected by other Illinois agencies, such as the insurance tax, corporate franchise tax, or unemployment taxes.

Persons currently under criminal investigation for state tax violations are not eligible for Amnesty. In addition, anyone with a civil case pending in state court is ineligible unless that case is resolved before the Amnesty period ends. On the other hand, persons with appeals pending with the Revenue Department are eligible if they file an Amnesty application and pay the basic tax and one-half of the applicable interest.

Forms and information may be obtained from any Illinois Department of Revenue office or by calling 1-800-BACKTAX. In addition, persons can write: Amnesty, Illinois Department of Revenue, P.O. Box 4480, Springfield, Ill., 62708.

Governor announces home heating assistance program

Governor James R. Thompson has announced that the Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program's (THEAP) local administering agencies have begun a limited program for elderly and handicapped households whose energy source has been disconnected. After Nov. 30, the program will be opened to all income-eligible families.

One agency administering the program is Madison County Community Development, 130 Hillsboro, Edwardsville, telephone 1-682-2800, extension 4386.

"We are limiting the type of application during the month of November to ensure that those with the most immediate needs will not have to face winter's onset without heating assistance," Thompson said.

THEAP provides grants to income-eligible renters and homeowners to pay heating and medically necessary cooling costs and to reconnect services that were lost. Eligibility is based on the number of family members and their combined annual income.

The Department of Commerce and Community Affairs administers THEAP. An allocation of $123.6 million will be received in Illinois from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services for the Fiscal Year 1985 program, an increase of $3.4 million from FY 1984, Thompson noted. In FY 1984, a total of 432,788 Illinois households received aid through THEAP.

"This program cannot pay all energy costs of needy families in Illinois, but it can help reduce those costs by providing either a one-time grant to the household or by paying the utility vendor directly," said DCCA director Michael T. Woelfer.

To avoid unnecessary delays in the application process, only those families that fall into the categories of the limited program should contact the local administering agency in November. Other families who believe they are eligible for assistance can call after Nov. 30.

For further information, interested persons may contact DCCA's toll-free energy hotline at 1-800-252-8643.

ADOPT ME. Samantha, a 3-year-old female tiger-striped feline, is available for adoption at the APA Shelter, 5000 Old Alton Road, Samintha has all of her shots and is wormed. Shelter hours are Mondays, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.; Tuesdays, 4 to 6 p.m.; Wednesdays, 5 to 8 p.m.; Thursdays, 10 a.m. to noon; Fridays, noon to 4 p.m.; Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., and Sundays, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

CUB backs plan to restrict utility shutoffs

The Citizens Utility Board of Illinois voted unanimously last week to throw its support behind the "Affordable Budget Plan" — a program to restrict utility shutoffs.

Under the plan, households with income of 125 percent or less of the poverty level would not be shut off from gas or electric service, provided they pay 12 percent of their income in the winter months, and 12 percent of their income or their current bill — whichever is greater — in the summer months.

The plan is currently awaiting action by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

"CUB will ask the ICC to give the plan a one-year trial," said Susan Stewart, Administrative and program director for CUB. "The problem of winter heat and summer cooling shutoffs is reaching crisis proportions, particularly in communities where unemployment is severe. The Affordable Budget Plan is the only program on the table that seriously addresses this problem."

A similar program was initiated in Ohio in 1983. "The plan has come under attack from Ohio utilities," she said, "but Ohio Public Utility Commission officials we've talked with question the validity of the utilities' assertions and figures."

"The Ohio commission is now working on a weatherization program which would reduce gas and electricity consumption in low-income households and 'make the Affordable Budget Plan even more effective,'" she added.

Last April, more than 123,000 households in Illinois faced shutoff of utility service. Federal Programs to help low-income families pay their heating bills ran out of funds by April.

"CUB is besieged with calls for help from consumers seeking ways to reconnect their utility service before the severe winter cold sets in," Susan Stewart said. "The Affordable Budget Plan would provide a means for many of those families to get reconnected."

CUB joins more than 100 consumer and civic groups statewide who support the Affordable Budget Plan. The final phase of hearings on the proposal is slated for the end of November, with a decision expected in December.

Parents should be alert to Reye Syndrome symptoms

Thomas Kirkpatrick, acting director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, has cautioned parents that the coming of the influenza season also heralds the season for Reye Syndrome.

"Governor Thompson proclaimed last week as Reye Syndrome Awareness Week in Illinois," Kirkpatrick said. "I want to join with him in urging parents, health-care professionals and all others who have contact with children to learn more about Reye Syndrome so that it can be detected early and an accurate diagnosis can be made in time to save a child's life," he said. Although cases of Reye Syndrome occur at all times of the year, they tend to cluster during the winter months of the flu season, and again during early spring, which is the typical chickenpox season.

"Reye Syndrome is extremely rare," Kirkpatrick said, "but death is very common if the syndrome is not diagnosed and treated in its early stages."

Reye Syndrome is an abnormal accumulation of fat in the liver and other organs, accompanied by severe swelling of the brain with an increase in pressure in the brain. Although it affects all the body's organs, the most serious effects occur in the liver and brain.

It most often occurs in children between the ages of 5 and 14 who have just recovered from a case of influenza or chickenpox. The first symptoms, which usually begin anywhere from two days to two weeks after the child has recovered, include persistent or continuous "explosive" vomiting, listlessness, loss of energy and abnormal drowsiness.

Second-stage symptoms include personality changes, such as irritability or aggressive behavior; disorientation or confusion and, in some cases, delirium or convulsions.

"Do not wait for all these symptoms to occur before seeking medical help," Kirkpatrick warned. "If your child exhibits any of these symptoms, contact your physician immediately, especially if your child has just recovered from flu or chickenpox."

Kirkpatrick said that there is no cure for Reye Syndrome, other than early diagnosis, monitoring of vital signs and reduction of brain swelling.

"Nor do we know what causes the Syndrome," he said, "although recent studies indicate that giving a child aspirin while the child is suffering from flu or chickenpox, may, in some cases, make the child more susceptible to developing Reye Syndrome."

Kirkpatrick said that, even though aspirin does not cause the Syndrome, the state health department advises parents to be extremely cautious about giving aspirin, or any medication that contains aspirin, to children who have recovered from flu or chickenpox. He recommended to use of products that do not contain aspirin for reducing fever and pain.

Seven cases have occurred in Illinois so far this year, with no resultant deaths. Fifteen cases and four deaths occurred in 1983.

Kirkpatrick said that 90 percent of the cases of Reye Syndrome occur in white children; that the majority of cases occur in middle-to-upper income families and that it is more common in suburban areas than it is in central cities or rural areas.

Governor requests disaster funds

Governor James R. Thompson has requested that the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture declare portions of Illinois disaster areas due to agricultural damage during the growing season from hail, wind or drought.

"As you are aware, this year has been a difficult one for Illinois farmers," Thompson told Secretary Block in his letter. "I believe that a disaster designation for the listed counties may save many farmers

VENICE PARK VICTIM OF VANDALS, THIEVES

Venice Park Superintendent Robert Wigfall told Venice police last week that someone tore the latch off the double doors nearest the fountain at the Venice Recreation Center.

Police reports say that it appeared that someone had been riding tricycles and playing with toys kept in the center.

In addition, Wigfall reported that some copper near the building was stolen.

disaster funds

from financial failure. It is important for Illinois agriculture that these disaster designations be made."

Thompson cited 60 counties affected by drought, one by hail (Henry) and three by high winds (Adams, Hancock and Schuyler).

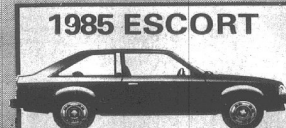

The 60 drought affected counties are Alexander, Calhoun, Coles, Crawford, Cumberland, Douglas, Edgar, Edwards, Franklin, Gallatin, Greene, Iroquois, Jersey, Johnson, Kankakee, Lawrence, Macoupin, Madison, Livingston, Bond, Champaign, Christian, Clark, Clay, Clinton, Effingham, Fayette, Hamilton, Hardin, Jackson, Jasper, Adams, Massac, Monroe, Montgomery, Morgan, Moultrie, Piatt, Pike, Pulaski, Randolph, St. Clair, Sangamon, Scott, Shelby, Union, Wabash, White, Will, Williamson, Whiteside, Jefferson, Kendall, Macon, Marion, Perry, Pope, Richland, Saline, Washington and Wayne.

The governor requested that Secretary Block consider the counties for disaster assistance from the Farmers Home Administration. That would allow farmers who qualify to receive low-interest loans.

SIU chancellor suggests taking a cue from Japan

In order for the United States to maintain its role as a world leader, it must key into its own values and culture, according to Southern Illinois University Chancellor Kenneth A. Shaw.

Speaking at a meeting of the Decatur Rotary Club, Shaw suggested that the United States could become more competitive in the world market by taking a cue from the Japanese and "capitalize on its own impressive strengths."

THE JAPANESE, Shaw said, have been great copiers, but only of those things that work in their culture. "Made in Japan," once synonymous with inferior quality, now causes American automobile and steel manufacturers, the makers of computer chips, German and Swiss watch and camera makers and others to know they have a worthy competitor," he said.

Shaw has been a vocal proponent of Japanese productivity systems in technology, production and management since 1981, when he toured a number of the country's universities and industrial plants. The trip was sponsored by the private Japan Foundation.

While the Japanese base their management systems on U.S. models, they tailor those methods to their own culture, improving on them, Shaw said. They borrow only that which fits," he said. "They didn't copy everything. They recognized cultural differences." He recommended five ways—based on Japanese management practices—in which the United States could improve productivity:

FOCUS ON long-range success. "American executives are rewarded on an annual basis ... This leads to short-run thinking," Shaw said. Japanese executives, on the other hand, are rewarded for long-term rather than instant success."

Improve labor/management cooperation. "We should become less confrontational and much more open," Shaw said. Japanese labor/management practices, he pointed out, center on common values: a quality product, job security and competitive objectives. Consult employees before making decisions. "Good managers," Shaw said, "need not fear a loss of authority. Competent leadership makes clear that the ultimate decisions must be made by management."

DEVELOP A "corporate culture" and strong management. "Good management means having a corporate philosophy—clearly understood and accepted goals—helping employees see how their work contributes to the larger goal."

Create partnerships. "Not only the kind of partnerships or cooperation within a given firm, but partnerships that can exist (among) government, banking and education."

Shaw said SIU is developing the partnership principle through programs such as SIU-Edwardsville's Metro-East Economic Development Cooperation, SIU-Carbondale's Office of Regional Research and Service and the university's ongoing coal research projects.

"NEVER IN OUR history has education been as important as it is today," Shaw said. Education is an important link among strong partnerships, a link we can't afford to neglect."

Halloween spooks and goblins were on the prowl all day. The little folks from First Pentecostal Day Care Center visited the residents in the morning and received treats. In the afternoon, the staff, families and residents celebrated with the annual Halloween party, and judging of costumes was held.

Pat Golden, won first prize, and the second prize went to Joyce Richardson.

Refreshments were served, which included apple cider, donuts and candy. Some of the residents also enjoyed a party at the Senior Citizens Township Hall.

Residents are busy working on projects for a Christmas bazaar and Country Store, which will be held soon.

9 charges after beating at tavern

Joe Harrington, 3801 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, was beaten and clubbed about the head and body at 11:30 p.m. Monday in the 19th Hole tavern, 2401 Washington Ave. Police ordered the tavern to close for the rest of the night due to the presence of a large number of unruly persons.

A total of nine charges was filed. Harrington became ill while signing battery complaints and was taken by ambulance from the police station to St. Elizabeth Medical Hospital for treatment. His right eye area was swollen and he had back pains.

Darrell E. Marcum, 37, of 1916 Fifth St., E. Madison, was booked by police for unlawful use of a weapon for allegedly having a loaded .22-caliber five-shot revolver in a pants pocket.

Disorderly conduct and battery accusations were filed against Marcum and three others: Donald L. Mangiaracino, 37, of 3056 Nameoki Drive; Jerry W. Christian, 33, of 2021 Harris St., Madison; and Kevin L. Patterson, 26, of 48 Briarhaven Lane.

In an initial incident at 11 p.m., Patterson and an unidentified blond man in a blue T shirt entered. Profanity was voiced toward a woman employee, and the man in the blue shirt threw a glass and broke several items behind the bar. Harrington asked them to leave, an argument ensued, and they departed, authorities were told.

In the later incident, the two returned with three companions. Marcum is said to have hit Harrington with a club, some of the others then striking Harrington with fists.

When police were summoned, they found Marcum standing near a pool table and holding a club in his hands; he was bleeding from the mouth. Several tables for patrons had been overturned, and many persons were shouting at each other.

Patterson was transported for emergency treatment but declined to be treated. The club and handgun were confiscated as evidence and police interviewed witnesses.

Between 1 and 2 a.m. Tuesday, Marcum was freed on $206 bail and Mangiaracino, Christian and Patterson each was released on $102 cash.

LANE USAGE, BEER CHARGES

Improper lane usage and transporting beer were charged during the weekend in the 3000 block of Madison Avenue against Robert D. Johnson, 21, Jefferson City, Mo.

2 GC children beaten, tortured and molested

"Live-in boy friends" are not uncommon these days, but in one instance an unofficial "Daddy" proved disastrous for two young children, authorities said this week.

A girl, five years old, and her brother, three and a half years old, have undergone repeated brutality in their home during the past two years, evidence shows.

The youngsters were placed in foster care after being examined Tuesday afternoon at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Their mother was put in protective custody at another location after giving details of the offenses.

She said she wanted to report the abuse earlier but her "friend" always kept one or both of the children hostage when she was away from her home in Granite City, she related to police. He also is accused of voicing threats to kill the three of them if the abuse ever was reported.

When an opportunity presented itself Tuesday, while he was visiting at his mother's home elsewhere in the Quad-City area, she took the youngsters to the hospital and told her story.

The man, 25, molested both children sexually in several ways, it was related. Torture included placing a lighted cigarette against the boy's feet to burn and scar him. He often struck them with his fists, kicked them, and picked them up and dropped them to the floor, she reported. The man also beat her frequently, she added.

Although some of the results are no longer visible, the molestations and beatings caused a large number of physical injuries as well as probable psychological damage, authorities were told.

The youngsters regularly reported to their mother what had happened, but "Daddy" often would describe the occurrences in a different way. On some occasions, the mother was tied up while the boy and girl were beaten and abused.

The number of painful and "awful" experiences, as the children described them, totaled a large number over the past two years and the episodes worsened and accelerated in 1984.

The man admitted some of the practices to the children's mother, defending his actions only by the remark that he could not control himself.

The investigation is continuing.

HOME AND SHED LOOTED

A lawnmower, stove, refrigerator, washer, dryer and porch swing were stolen from a rental home at 2125 Ohio Ave. owned by Mrs. Mildred Walker, she told authorities Monday. In an unrelated case, a thief obtained four wheel rims valued at $378, a battery charger worth $200 and five tires from the shed of C. S. Holmes, 2333 Rock Road, it was discovered Monday.
